Crafting a Standout College Application for STEM Programs

Ready to take on STEM
Build your college application
with your experts!

SPEAKER

Xue Yan

Director of Recruitment at Drexel University
College of Computing & Informatics (CCI)

"Authenticity is the key to a successful college application—whether you're pursuing STEM or any other field. Be yourself, showcase what you truly care about, and let your values and goals shine through."

This powerful message was at the heart of last Friday's webinar, "Crafting a Standout College Application for STEM Programs." In this engaging session, Xue Yan, Director of Recruitment at Drexel University's College of Computing & Informatics, provided invaluable insights on how students can create compelling applications that truly reflect their passions and strengths, including:

- What makes a strong STEM application
- How to highlight your unique traits
- Tips for crafting an impressive college application

Thank you to all who joined the webinar! We hope you found valuable insights to enhance your application journey.
